1、 A THANK-YOU LETTER

Dear Professor Smith,

Many thanks for your friendliness and hospitality (友好和热情)during our delegation (我方代表团) recent visit to your university.

It was nice of you to introduce us to some famous professors and celebrated scholars at your university. We had a safe and sound trip home.

Now we have resumed (重返工作岗位) our work.

Again, on behalf of (代表) the group, I would like to express our thanks to you and your team (对你和你的团队表示感谢). Meanwhile, I hope you will someday pay a visit to our university and give us more talks on Modern Western Economics.

Sincerely yours,

Tony Wang

2、 A WELCOME SPEECH

I am Peter, Sales manager of the company.

First of all, I would like to (C. take this opportunity to) welcome you to our company.

Our company is one of the leading companies in the electric car industry. I am sure you will be proud of being a member of our company. It is always (E. my great honor) to keep the business going.We need to (A. set new goals) for ourselves all the time. As you are fresh, energetic and equipped with new knowledge and new ideas, soon you will realize that you've (D. made the right decision) to join us.

Work hard, not only for our company but also for yourself. That's the only way for you and our company to (B. keep growing) .

Again I would like to welcome you and from today on, let's work together and succeed together.

3、 Cmobile ones and stationary ones.

Mobile sources are cars, planes, boats, etc. Stationary sources include large factories, power plants and every household, which burns natural gas or wood. The most important ways ( C. to reduce air pollution ) are to drive less, use less electricity and natural gas, and eat vegetarian.

THESE IDEAS ARE EASY TO FOLLOW:

1. Get your car ( B. checked regularly ) to make sure everything works properly. Whenever possible, walk, cycle, carpool, or use public transportation. Buy fuel-efficient vehicles. Drive at 60 mph or less to improve gas mileage.

2. Burn less natural gas ( A. to cook or heat your home ) . Instead, use a solar cooker or heater and wear extra layers.

3. Become a vegetarian or a vegan. ( E. Raising any sort of livestock ) requires more land and emits more carbon dioxide than simply growing crops directly for human food.

4. ( D. Use less electricity ) . Coal power plants produce most of the world's electricity, and they also produce more carbon dioxide than any other source. Coal plants also release many other pollutants. Unplug televisions, cell phone chargers, and other appliances while not in use. Most devices continue to use small amounts of power even when they're turned off. Avoid using air conditioning, and don't leave the fridge open any longer than necessary. Only run the clothes washer or dish washer when full. Rather than using a dryer, hang clothes on a line to dry in the sun.

4. Do you know how to use a mobile phone without being rude to the people around you?

Talking during a performance irritates ( 激怒 ) people. If you are expecting an emergency call, sit near the exit doors and set your phone to vibrate ( 振动 ), A .

When eating at a restaurant with friends, C . This conveys the message that your phone calls are more important than those around you.

Mobile phones have sensitive microphones that allow you to speak at the volume you would on a regular phone. B . If you are calling from a noisy area, D . Many people believe that they can't live without their mobile phone. E , but limit your conversations to urgent ones and save the personal calls until you are at home."

5. Fill in the blanks of the following letter with given sentences in the box.

( A ) , mobile phones are being more and more widely used. It's small in size, ( C ) , offering fast and convenient service for communication. It's of multi-function. ( B ) . In recent years, ( D ) . Quite a few use them at school to keep in touch with their families and friends instead of writing letters, which, of course brings convenience to them. But I don't think it's good to do so. ( E ) , student users often waste a lot of time chatting over the phone in their spare time, some even use them to cheat in exams. In addition, mobile phone bill is also a heavy burden on students' families.

6. HENRY: Hey, what are you doing this weekend?

MANDY: ( D. I haven't decided yet. What about you? )

HENRY: Would you like to go for a picnic? The weather forecast says it will be sunny this Sunday.

MANDY: ( A. That's a good idea. Shall I bring anything? )

HENRY: Yes of course, and I will make some hamburgers.

MANDY: OK. Then I'll bring some drinks, green tea, black tea, juice or cola?

HENRY: ( E. How about green tea? ) By the way I will bring my new kitchenware for our picnic

MANDY: New kitchenware? A cooker?

HENRY: Yeah! I just bought a solar cooker last month. It's a new device that uses solar energy and it is getting popular due to its high efficiency and its environmental friendliness. People can cook easily with this new device. I'll bring some fruit and some other food. We will make a wonderful picnic!

MANDY: ( B. Wow! How amazing. I can't wait for it! )

HENRY: OK, I am looking forward to our picnic! Then See you on this Sunday!

MANDY: ( C. See you! )

8. Li Qiang and his brother will go to Beijing.

He is talking to Wang Ning about the plan.

Wang Ning: So, you're going to Beijing on Sunday, Li Qiang?

Li Qiang: ( C. Yes, my brother and I are going together. ) We booked two railway tickets online this Monday.

Wang: That's really cool! I'm always dreaming of going to Beijing, seeing famous places with unique buildings, such as the Forbidden City, Summer Palace, etc.

Li: ( A. And the China Railway Museum is a must. )

Wang: Oh, that museum was the old Beijing Railway Station. It shows the history of China's railway development. ( D. It's worth visiting. I've been planning to go for a visit for a long time. )

Li: Why don't you join us? We are leaving on Sunday. ( B. You still have two days to get yourself prepared. )

Wang: Ok, then count me in. Are you taking a high-speed railway?

Li: ( E. Yeah, the high speed railway is very quick and convenient. )

Besides, it's comfortable.

9. Man-made air pollution mainly comes from two sources:

Man-made air pollution mainly comes from two sources: mobile ones and stationary ones. Mobile sources are cars, planes, boats, etc. Stationary sources include large factories, power plants and every household, which burns natural gas or wood. The most important ways ( C. to reduce air pollution ) are to drive less, use less electricity and natural gas, and eat vegetarian.

These ideas are easy to follow:

1. Get your car ( B. checked regularly ) to make sure everything works properly. Whenever possible, walk, cycle, carpool, or use public transportation. Buy fuel-efficient vehicles. Drive at 60 mph or less to improve gas mileage.

2. Burn less natural gas ( A. to cook or heat your home ) . Instead, use a solar cooker or heater and wear extra layers.

3. Become a vegetarian or a vegan. ( E. Raising any sort of livestock ) requires more land and emits more carbon dioxide than simply growing crops directly for human food.

4. ( D. Use less electricity ) . Coal power plants produce most of the world's electricity, and they also produce more carbon dioxide than any other source. Coal plants also release many other pollutants.

Unplug televisions, cell phone chargers, and other appliances while not in use. Most devices continue to use small amounts of power even when they're turned off. Avoid using air conditioning, and don't leave the fridge open any longer than necessary. Only run the clothes washer or dish washer when full. Rather than using a dryer, hang clothes on a line to dry in the sun.

10. Mary Johnson: Good morning, Mr. Liu! How good to see you!

Liu Hua: ( D. Glad to see you, too, Mary. Indeed, it's been a very nice journey. )

Mary: May I introduce an old friend of mine to you? Tony Smith is an architect and has a special interest in bridge design.

TonySmith: ( A. How do you do? Mr. Liu. )

Liu Hua: How do you do? Mr. Smith. Nice to meet you.

Tony: Nice to see you, too. I know, you are the design leader of the Island & Tunnel Project of the Hong Kong-Zhuhai-Macao Bridge. It's my honor to meet you here.

Liu Hua: ( E. Thank you very much. )

Tony: It is said that the bridge is the longest cross-sea bridge in the world. How long is it?

LiuHua: Sure. You know, this bridge connects Hong Kong, Zhuhai and Macau. It has a total length of 49.968 km, of which 35.578 km will be built over the sea.

Tony: ( B. That's great! I hope someday I can witness such a miracle! )

Mary: It sounds fantastic. I also want to see it when it's finished.

LiuHua: No problem, you are welcome!

Mary: Now we'll send you to the hotel and you can take a rest there.

We'll have a meeting on bridge design tomorrow morning.

Liu Hua: ( C. Thank you very much for your help. )

Tony: You're welcome.

11. SUN LI: Nice to meet you. I'm Sun Li.

HENRY: ( C. Nice to meet you too. ) Are you a student of this university, too?

SUN LI: Yeah, this is my second year. I study Architecture. And what's your major?

HENRY: ( D. Oh, My major is Energy and Environment. ) So, what subjects do you study this term?

SUN LI: ( A. This semester we study English, Engineering Drawing, Construction Technology, and Building Materials. )

HENRY: Oh, I see. I have English classes too. I have Air Pollution Control, Pollution Analysis, and Climate Change Control Technology.

SUN LI: Oh, really?! What do you think of your major?
HENRY: It's wonderful. (B.I think the classes are really interesting.)
but Pollution Analysis isn't my best subject. I like Climate Change
Control Technology better. (E.How about you?)

SUN LI: I like Building Materials best.
